One of Thermalabs top product, the Lavender exfoliator, is now available in the UK market

July 14, 2017 (FPRC) -- Thermalabs has released one of its top products, the Lavender body scrub exfoliator, into the UK market. This comes barely a week after the firm introduced its Shea Body Butter, and other popular skincare products in the same market. Over the last few months, the company has been working on market inroads to Europe. Thermalabs has also established an online market presence in Germany, Italy, France, and a few other European nations.

Thermalabs is a leading provider of cosmetics products. The firm is widely known in the self-tanning industry, where it has furnished users with dozens of top-quality lotions and accessories. Thermalabs pilot product was a self-tanning lotion known as the original self-tanner. This was built from organic and natural ingredients such as Aloe Vera and Green Tea. Following a proper marketing campaign by the company, the product was a major hit in the market. The Original Self Tanner managed to sell over 10,000 units within just the first week in the market. This pop success attracted a lot of positive coverage from leading industry blogs and media outlets that focus on cosmetics.

Thermalabs has thus far managed to furnish the market with an extensive range of over 40 different products. While most of these are self-tanners and tanning accessories, the firm has also diversified into other market areas. The company currently operates a total of four distinct sub-brands, namely Supremasea, Tent World, Organic Healthcare, and Thermalabs Air. Supremasea is the sub-brand behind a number of skincare products based on Dead Sea salts. Tent World, on the other hand, manufactures beach and outdoor shelters. Thermalabs Air is the firm's arm in charge of airbrushing machines and accessories, while Organic Healthcare is a sub-brand that creates organic health products based on bio-organic ingredients.

The Lavender body scrub exfoliator is produced under the Supremasea arm. This product is essentially an exfoliating and moisturizing formulation that contributes to a healthy, silky skin. Lavender exfoliator is designed from a combination of Dead Sea minerals and essential oils to provide an effective exfoliation and skin-care remedy. According to Thermalabs, it's an ideal pick for skincare enthusiasts who are concerned about using chemical-based exfoliators, or other seemingly harmful body scrubs.

Alex Howard, Thermalabs top marketing official, said "We are glad to announce the entry of our Lavender exfoliating lotion into the UK market. This is one of our most popular products thus far, and we are glad that more people can access it now. At Thermalabs, we're determined to supply our global audience with a comprehensive range of top-quality formulations. Our customers within the UK can now obtain this product online via Amazon.co.uk..."
